

How to Read Architectural Plans & Specifications – A Construction Law Seminar

Construction projects are constantly changing endeavors. If you are a defense counsel, in house counsel or have a general practice and don't want to get left in the dirt, this seminar is for you.

Sponsored by the BRBA Construction Law Committee.
Lunch will begin at 11:30 a.m., and the seminar will follow from noon until 1 p.m.

Date: Friday, July 25, 2008
Time: 11:30 a.m. - 1 p.m.
Location: Middleton Bar Center, 544 Main Street, Baton Rouge, La.
Credit: 1.0 CLE hours
Cost: $35 for BRBA members. Cost for non-members is $45.
Speaker: Steven Loeb, partner with Breazeale, Sachse & Wilson

Reasons YOU should know how to read architectural plans & specifications:

- To become familiar with the content of “contract documents”
- To better assess risk management and cost control
- To improve your ability to question experts
- To better explain your position to the judge or jury
- To understand change orders during construction

Please fax this page to the Baton Rouge Bar Association, (225) 344-4805, by noon Wednesday, July 23, 2008.
“No shows” will be billed. Reservations may be canceled without penalty by noon, Wednesday, July 23.
